TREE DEDICATION AT SHEARER'S FOODS HONORING RICHARD SHATTEN

Brewster, Ohio: Members of The Entrepreneurs EDGE and the Northeast Ohio business community joined Shearer's Foods in dedicating a tree planted in honor of Richard Shatten. The ceremony took place at Shearer's headquarters in Brewster on October 29. In May, Shearer's received the Richard Shatten Civic Distinction Award, which is presented each year to an exceptional company that goes well beyond the norm in giving back and supporting the Northeast Ohio community. Along with the award, a tree is planted to preserve the memory of Mr. Shatten.

"Richard Shatten's legacy lives on through the Shatten Award and its recipients. I accept the Award on behalf of Shearer's dedicated associates, suppliers and customers, who support our company's philanthropic mission each and every day." said Robert J. Shearer, Chief Executive Officer. "We will continue to honor Mr. Shatten by setting a higher standard for ourselves and for all Northeast Ohio businesses."

The Entrepreneurs EDGE (Economic Development through Growth and Entrepreneurship) is a non-profit organization that is committed to helping middle-market companies in Northeast Ohio grow their value, while building a culture that is supportive of entrepreneurial ventures. EDGE companies have an annual revenue of less than $500 million and are based within a 17-county region. The Leading EDGE Award measures, tracks and recognizes companies that are creating the most value for themselves as well as for the community. It establishes meaningful benchmarks to give a more thorough indication of our regional economic health. The event was sponsored by MAGNET and Glenmede. Additional support was provided by Crain's Cleveland Business and The Fred Lennon Trust with regional support from area universities, select chambers of commerce, economic development groups and professional service firms.
